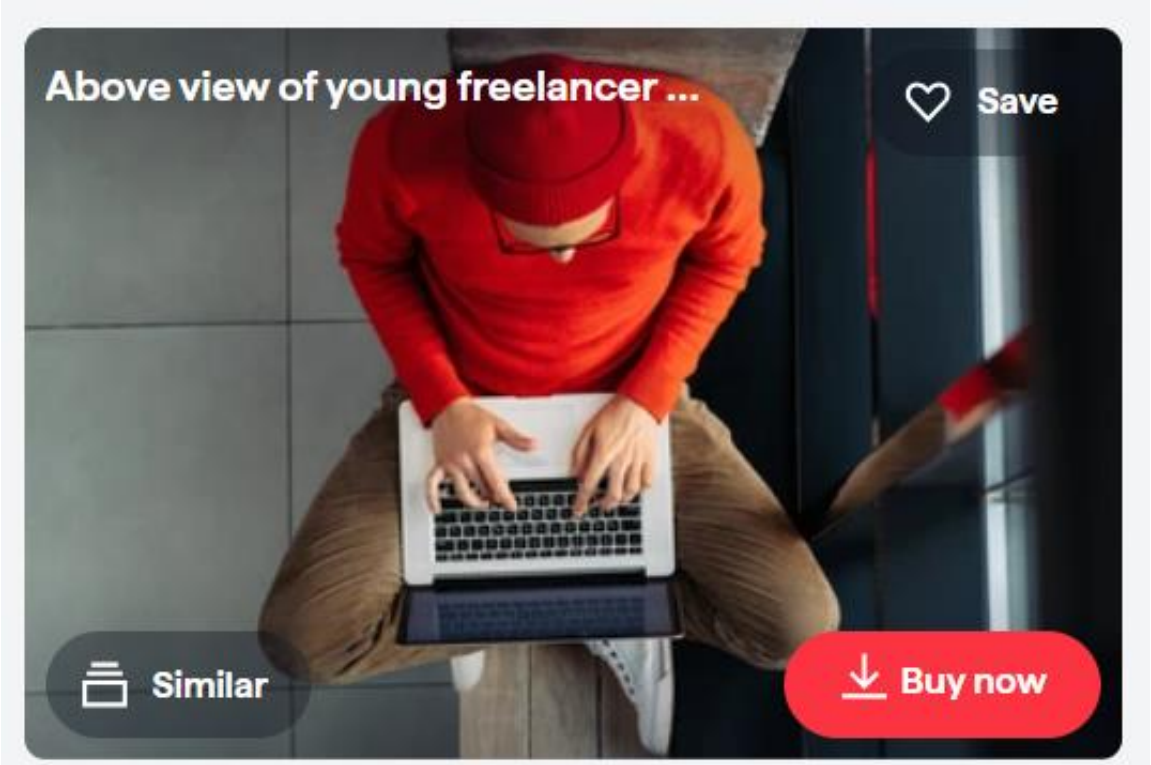
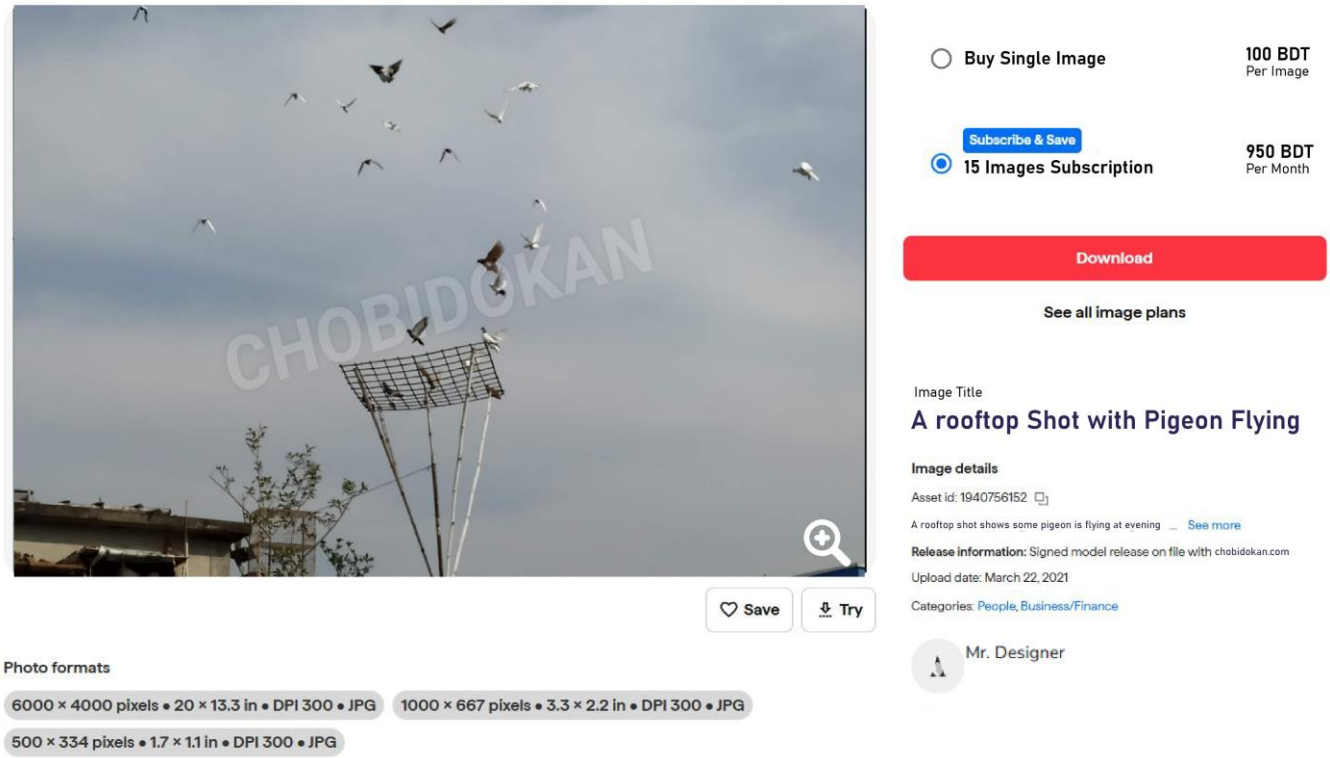
1. Home Page should be followed by category. Same Pattern as I told before similar Imagebazar.com home page.

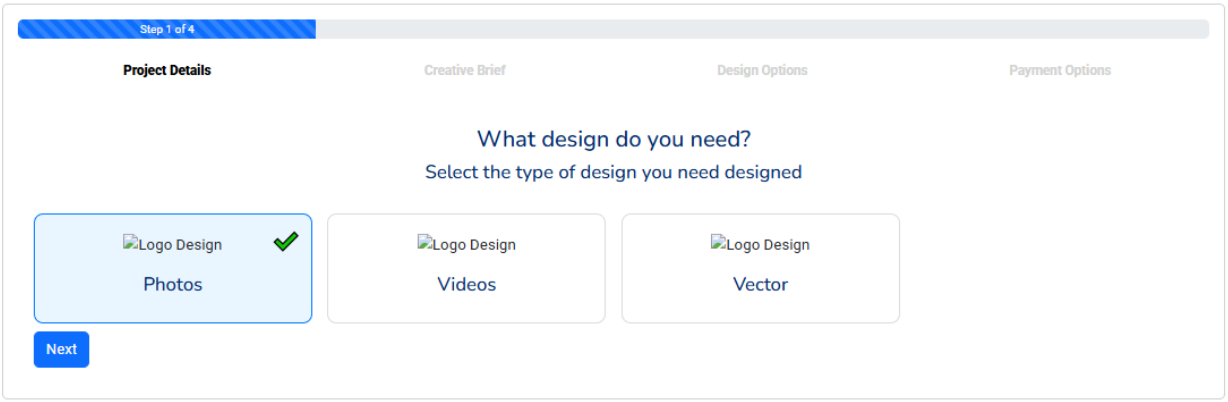
2. After clicking a image from category this page will contain same images list from the selected category and these image should have a hover similar like this reference below:



3. After clicking a image from the list, user will see this page for purchase. Where there should be a single purchase and a subscription offer. After successful purchase user can download it. With subscription purchase user will only allow to download as per subscription rules,
   Also there will a viewer of image should show by this page including more watermark and product id. Reference image is below:



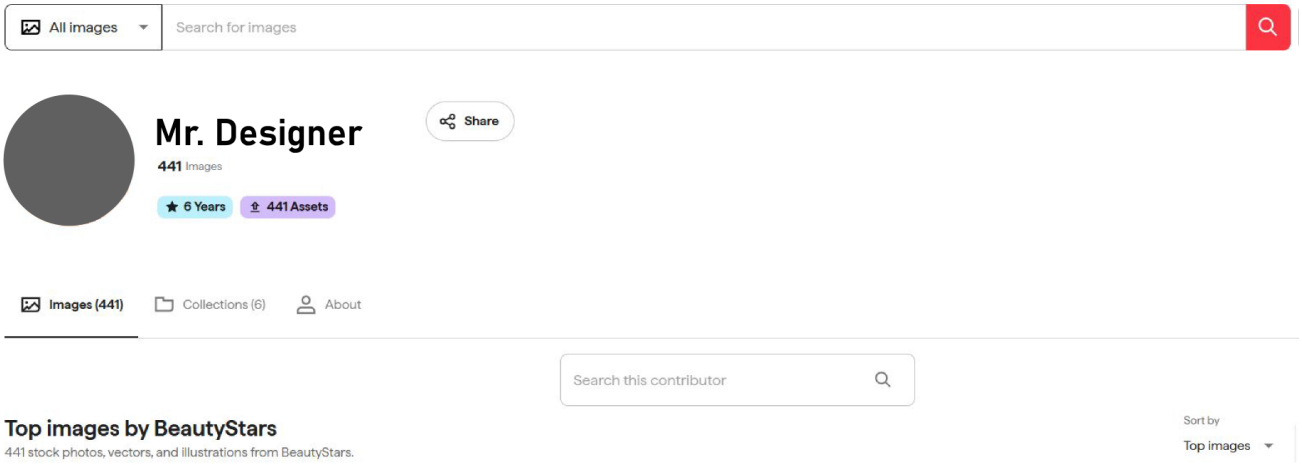
4. On Custom Request Page there should be Different types of Category, can be similar of image upload page, but it should be selected by Admin.



5. For The Video same design will be done for every products.

6. For Designer there will be a designer profile page, In this there will be shown designer’s all asset will a number chart how much they submitted.

Also there should add a share link for designer. Check the reference image below:



Thank you.
